

This summer there's only one place to hang out...

Heartbreak Café

Step back in time and enjoy the retro chic of 80's California

NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED

It's 1989, and 'It' girl Deborah Lesley has a dream life; expensive car, beautiful, and rich. That is until her world comes crashing down when her parents split up and she no longer leads a life of luxury. It's time for her to get a job!

Joe Garbarini is the coolest boy in town, he rides motorbikes, always has a girlfriend and runs the Heartbreak Café, the hangout on the north Californian coast. When Debbie turns up for a job he thinks she won't last but she's determined to prove him wrong.

Join Debbie, Joe and the rest of the gang at the Heartbreak Café in NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED, the first title in this sparkling series from bestselling author Janet Quin-Harkin.

www.HeartbreakCafe.LA

Publishing 7th July 2014
Price: £7.99

Whether you are a new reader or remember this series from when it first published in the eighties, it's time to get nostalgic and visit the Heartbreak Café!

Author Information

Janet Quin-Harkin

Janet Quin-Harkin first found success as a picture book writer, winning several awards. She was then asked to write a teenage series and Heartbreak Café was born! The first title, No Experience Required was an instant success when it was originally published in the eighties. By the time the third book came out she was selling half a million copies. Since then Janet has gone on to become a New York Times bestseller. Writing under the pen name Rhys Bowen, she is the author of the historical Molly Murphy and Royal Spyness mystery series. She has won the Agatha Best Novel Award and was nominated for the Edgar Best Novel. Janet is British and divides her time between California and Arizona.

You can visit her website at www.rhysbowen.com

Ellingstar is a boutique media company with a small, bespoke selection of media aimed at teens and young adults.

Publishing 7th July 2014
Price: £7.99

